Heritage tourism committee formalized

A committee stemming from a longstanding hope to see the numerous sites connected with the 1885 North West Rebellion developed as tourism generators was given its formal mandate Thursday at a meeting held in the beautiful new Fishing Lake Community Centre.

This was the fourth meeting of the group, which has been given the mission of co-ordinating a study to identify and document all historic sites associated with the 1885 North West Rebellion, with the resulting recommendations going back to the communities involved in the study. Twenty two communities and municipalities in an area bounded on the south by the North Saskatchewan River, on the north by a line joining Bonnyville and Loon Lake, SK, on the west by Highway 41 and on the east by a line joining Loon Lake and Turtleford, SK, will be approached to help with funding.

Bob Hendriks of Heinsburg

is chairing the committee, and explained the scope of the study, which will document, research and catalogue every site of historical significance in the area. Hendriks and Byron Bailey of Lloydminster Tourism and Convention Authority have met with Lloydminster Community Futures and the City of Lloydminster, both of which indicated they would be interested in committing funding to the project. A total of $8000 to $10,000 is needed, which will then be matched with government funds.

Hendriks displayed a flow chart showing how the project will proceed. Margaret Nelson, an observer from the Tulibee Lake area, said it appeared to be "a lot of work, but something that must be done." Arlene Calliou of Fishing Lake added that "it's exactly what this area needs."

Each community which makes a contribution to the study will be entitled to have a member on the committee, which will tentatively complete their study by August 1995.

The Terms of Reference for the study were gone over at length and approved, as was the format for the feasibility study. In both cases, 'other sites of historic or tourism interest' were added to the sites to be inventoried.

Resources will be inventoried (Continued on pg. 2)

Terry Fox run goes Sept. 18

Elk Point will once again be among communities across the country who raise funds each year for cancer research by participating in the Terry Fox Run. This year's run will be held on Sunday, September 18.

Pledge sheets and further information are now available from Denise Maas at 645-3775 (work) or 645-2841 (home) or Peggy Maas at 724-3575.

Community advisory committee meets September 7, 1994

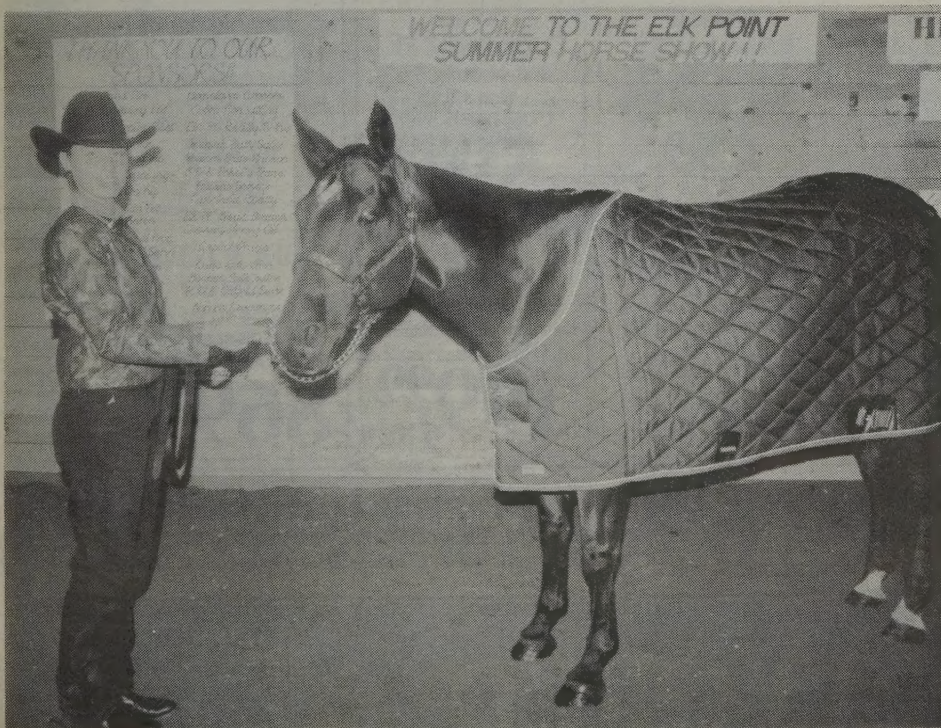

With summer coming to an end, planning for the Community Advisory Committee, which will provide two-way communication between the community as a whole and the Elk Point RCMP Detachment, will get back on track, with a meeting set for Wednesday, September 7 at 7 p.m. in the Seniors Recreation Centre.

The CAC, which would take an advisory role, will also develop a list of priorities for policing in Elk Point and district, which will be presented to the RCMP, who will in turn determine the feasibility of the priorities.

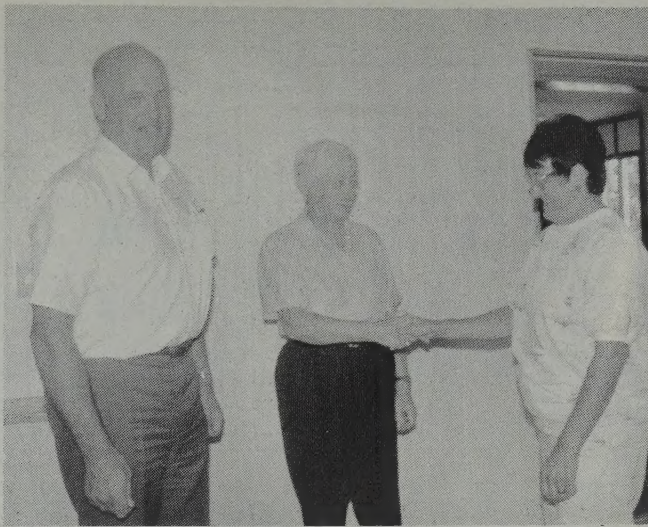

Ideally, the CAC would meet each 4 to 6 weeks, and would be made up of approximately 10 people made up of a cross section of the community: seniors, youth, Chamber of Commerce, ethnic groups, industries, Town, County, etc. who would be working together in partnership with the RCMP with a long term vision and a goal of long term existence.

Anyone interested in serving on the CAC is invited to attend the meeting, at which the CAC guidelines will be reviewed and the committee formed. Terms of reference will then be developed. For further information, call Terri Ehlert at 724-3800.

SUMMER HORSE SHOW WINNER - Shanna Baker and her horse Serene Liberty Lee were the High Point Champion twosome in the 17 and Under age group at the Elk Point Agricultural Society's Summer Horse Show last Saturday, with 39 points to their credit. See Page 5 for more winners.

WELCOMING THE HARTLEYS - Millie Orr of the Elk Point United Church Board welcomed Rev. Norman Hartley and Mrs. Hartley when the newcomers attended a potluck supper in their honor Sunday evening. Rev. Hartley will be holding his first service this Sunday, and everyone is welcome to attend.

ied as to their historical, archaeological, architectural and cultural significance, their location, physical condition and relationship to the environment and the communities nearby. Meetings will be held with towns, Chambers of Commerce etc. to promote the study and ascertain local support.

An inventory of government and private funding for development and implementation will also be made, and strategies which could be utilized with private and public sector involvement will be enumerated. Strategy will be developed for the preservation, rehabilitation and interpretation of the inventoried resources.

Our Past

By Steve Andrishak

Farm scenes of early years

Last week of summer

Summer is very rapidly drawing to a close. Have you had fun yet?

If not, you still have - let's see - seven days, including today, to fit some in. There's time to take another tour of the Forts... enjoy a McKay's Ice Cream cone to the last lick... call up Steve Andrishak and take a walk back through time at the Pioneer Museum... have coffee and a browse at Days of Olde... drive out to Ross Lake and sit on the beach... enjoy the last rodeo of the season... paint the back fence... find your friends on the mural... go fishing... or take a friend out to lunch, before we all get too busy with the fall routine.

Or maybe you're getting the whole family together for a reunion or a wedding, in this Year of the Family. If so, have a wonderful, memorable time.

See you in September.

Tourist Information Clerk

We are at the end of what turned out to be a fairly busy season. If anyone is interested in the boring statistics, they are:

In June, we had 385 tourists compared to 287 last year.

In July, we had 439 tourists compared to 463 last year.

In August so far (up to and including August 29) we have had 287 tourists compared to 259 last year.

Which, as anyone who can add will tell you, totals up like this: in 1994, we have had 1111 tourists, and in 1993, 109 tourists. Not a bad year at all!

We even have statistics on

where people came from and where they were going to, but we aren't going to relate them here. (There are people who like to hear facts like that but we aren't those kind of people).

Altogether our stint in the TIC (Tourist Information Centre) has been interesting, informative and enjoyable. We look forward to next year. So if we all drive carefully, take our vitamins and stay out from under falling rocks, we will see you next June.

Health authority meets tonight in St. Paul

Lakeland Regional Health Authority will begin its community visitation project in late August. "This is an important part of its mandate to hear from the public and become familiar with existing health programmes and facilities in its region," said Chair Dareld Cholak.

Cholak indicated that the members must obtain a first hand feel for the programmes and facilities it will eventually inherit. "We need this input to complete our three-year business plan which is due September 15, 1994," said Cholak. From its recent strategic planning session, the Authority generated a draft vision and mission statement. As well, a number of guiding principles were developed to give direction in the restructuring decision making over the next few years. "This preliminary document will be shared with existing boards and staff to obtain grass roots reaction before the final draft is submitted to the Minister," observed Cholak.

The Authority will end each day's tour with an evening "Public Input Meeting." "It is hoped that the public will use this opportunity to candidly and openly discuss health concerns with the members. We look forward to this public input with great interest," said Cholak. "With the anticipated turnout, the Regional Health Authority suggests presentations not exceed five minutes," said Cholak.

The Public Meetings are scheduled as follows:

7:00 p.m. - Thursday, August 25, 1994, Lac La Biche, William J. Cadzow Hospital.

12:00 noon - Monday, August 29, 1994, Grand Centre, Grand Centre Health Unit

7:30 p.m. - Monday, August 29, 1994, Bonnyville, St. Louis Parish Hall

7:00 p.m. - Tuesday, August 30, 1994, St. Paul, County Board Room

7:00 p.m. - Wednesday, August 31, 1994, Smoky Lake, Elementary Gymnasium, H.A. Kostash School

7:30 p.m. - Thursday, September 1, 1994, Sherwood Park, County Council Chambers

7:30 p.m. - Wednesday, September 7, 1994, Vegreville, Social Centre

Background information is available at the Regional Health Authority Office 656-2030.

Cholak indicated that due to time limitations the Authority was forced to limit the community meetings to the seven locations and would hope that neighboring centres would gravitate to these centres or to others if dates clashed.

Please note that the regular public meeting on August 25, 1994 commences at 10:00 a.m. and the October 5, 1994 meeting has been rescheduled to October 6, 1994.

Jacobsons celebrate diamond anniversary

Sixtieth wedding anniversary celebrations are as rare as the diamonds which serve as the symbol for this major milestone. To find a couple who have lived in the same home all their married lives, and a man who spent 32 years with the same company, are equally rare.

Add these together and you will find Irene and George Jacobson, who were married August 25, 1934, in St. Paul, by a justice of the peace. They started out their married life on a farm, and nine years later moved both their family and their house into Elk Point, building on additional space as their family grew. Mrs. Jacobson recalls being told by Mrs. Walter Johnson, back in those early days, that seeing the Jacobson house made her homesick, as she had lived on that same site, a block south of today's Tourist Information Centre, in a tent.

George Jacobson began working for the Elk Point Co-op in 1946, and worked in all four locations the store occupied over the years: the current PRAG Plumbing building, the building last occupied by This'n'That Variety, the present home of Video Point, and the 'new' Co-op store. Jacobson retired in 1978, shortly after the new store was opened, after more than three decades in the grocery business, including some years as store manager.

The Jacobsons' six decades of devotion and dedication were celebrated Saturday August 27, by a large gathering of family and friends who filled the Seniors Recreation Centre for an Open House in their honor. Plaques were received from Mayor Ed Bouchard and MLA Paul Langevin, with certificates coming from M. Deborah Grey, Prime Minister Jean Chretien, Lieutenant Governor Gordon Towse, Premier Ralph Klein, Alberta Liberal Caucus Leader Betty Hewes and Leader of the Federal Opposition Lucien Bouchard.

Entertainment included very enjoyable performances by Gwen Morris, Mathias Furger and Debbie Lawrence.

What's News at the Library

Our summer quickly comes to a close

Diane Pashulka

Summer Program Coordinator

The summer is coming to a close and so is our Summer Reading Program at the library. This year's theme, "Reading Rodeo," brought a lot of attention. More than 90 children registered. What made the program especially great were the people who volunteered their time to be guest speakers. Val Goulet gave us a lesson in line dancing. Brenda Bintz gave our preschoolers a lesson in barrel riding. John Drobot delighted us with his poetry and western knickknacks (thanks, Mr. Drobot, for your gifts to the children and the library). Billie Milholland fascinated us with her own published stories. Bob and Gloria Berg, along with their children, Benne and Justin, were especially helpful. They not only did a demonstration for us with their horses up at the Riding Arena, but whenever we needed props (ropes, saddles, etc.) for a lesson or the main rodeo, they supplied them. The boys taught us a great deal about what rodeo is all about. Thanks to you all.

We also want to send a thank you to Vicki Brooker and Daphne Schnurer for lending us some of their tack, books and pictures to put on display in the library to coincide with the theme.

With all the guest speakers we still found time to do many activities and enjoy many stories. The preschoolers made collages, totem poles and western mobiles. The elementary children made signs and chuckwagons. One bonus that came out of all this is that the children remained enthusiastic about reading throughout the summer. I'm going to miss the children and their smiling faces, they are what makes this program special.

Thank you and 'bye for now.

Have a great year. (Thanks to Michele, Margaret, Neil, Gayle, and all the parents, etc. who helped throughout the summer.)

LIBRARY CALENDAR

Friday Mornings: Storytime returns on September 2 at 10:30 a.m. I am looking forward to seeing a lot of the regulars and lots of new faces this year. - Michele.

GRADUATION DAY - Preschool graduates of the Elk Point Library's Summer Reading Rodeo program received their certificates of participation at last Friday's windup party, which also featured special games, stories and snacks. The elementary group has their windup today.

All Long Distance calls within Alberta
require you to dial
the 403 area code.

North America
is running out of numbers.

With the growing demand for modern telecommunications equipment such as fax machines, modems and cellular phones, over 13,500 new telephone numbers are requested every day.

To meet this demand, the North American Numbering Plan is being modified to add more area codes. As a result, we will have to change the way we dial. Beginning September 4, whenever you call long distance, even within Alberta, you must dial the area code.

For example, in Alberta dial 1 (or 0) + 403 + seven digit number. The way you dial local calls does not change.

This message is brought to you by AGT working with telecommunications companies across North America. For more information, call 1-800-363-2633.

*Remember:
Dial the 403
area code on all
Long Distance calls
made within Alberta.*
